3Q | 2024 | MIAMI BEACHES & MIAMI COASTAL MAINLAND

Miami Beaches

The Miami Beaches include the following areas: Sunny Isles Beach, Bal Harbour, Bay Harbor Islands, Surfside, Miami Beach, Fisher Island, and Key Biscayne

Miami Beaches real estate market activity cooled in Third Quarter 2024, with both the number and dollar volume of single-family and condo closings moderating compared to a year ago. Despite fewer sales, median price and average price per square foot figures for condos and single-family homes alike displayed year-over-year gains, as strong demand for premium properties causes price statistics to continue to grow throughout the Miami Beaches. Inventory trends were mixed, with active condo listings up over 30% but single-family home listings dipping 1%.

Miami Beaches

CONDO / CO-OP / TOWNHOUSE

Demand for condos across the Miami Beaches weakened in Third Quarter 2024, with the number and volume of sales declining by 26% and 16%, respectively, compared to the previous year. In turn, the condo market experienced a significant increase in inventory, with listings up by 35% compared to the prior year. This, combined with reduced buyer urgency, resulted in longer marketing times. However, average and median prices continued to rise due to a higher proportion of sales exceeding $10 million.

- Closings fell 26% annually to 583 sales, the greatest year-over-year decrease in five quarters. This was the lowest number of third quarter condo closings in the Miami Beaches since 2013.
- Median price at $547K rose year-over-year for the eighth consecutive quarter due to a 2% increase in the market share of sales over $1M.
- Average price, at $1.2M, rose 13% annually given a 57% year-over-year spike in sales over $10M.
- Sales volume at $717M fell 16% to a four-year third quarter low due to the deep drop in sales.
- This quarter's most expensive condo sale on an absolute price basis was a 4,305 square foot residence at The Surf Club Four Seasons, which closed for $18.5M ($4,297 per square foot).
- The most expensive sale on a per square foot basis was a 2,521 square foot residence at The Setai in South Beach that closed for $16M ($6,347 per square foot).

SINGLE FAMILY

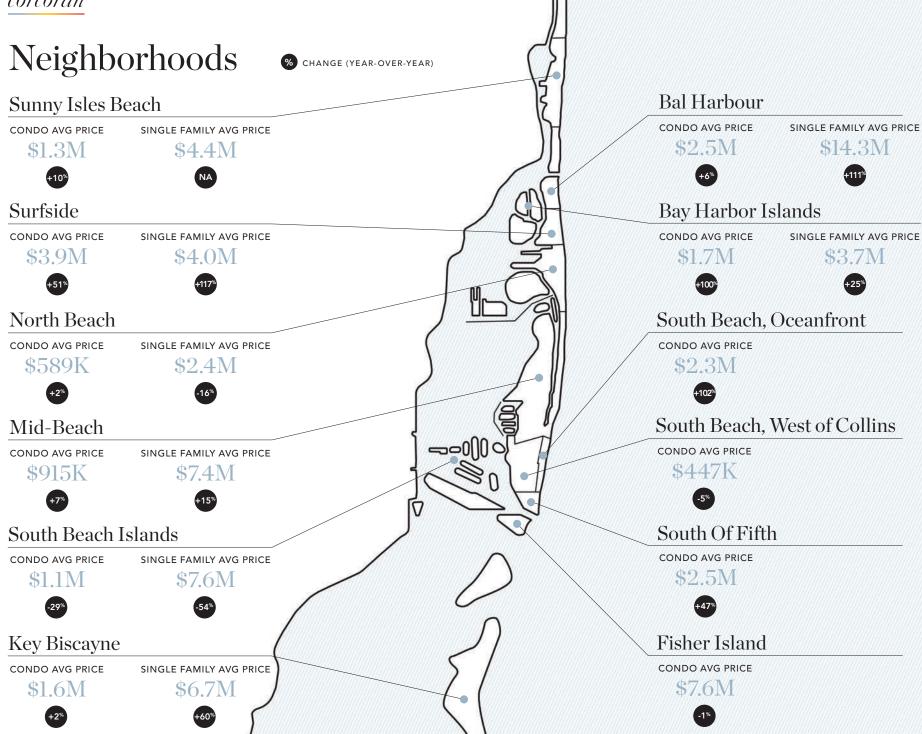

The single-family market also experienced a decline in sales, albeit less pronounced than the condo market. Compared to 2023, the number of sales fell 6% but sales volume fell 10%, largely due to fewer high-end sales. Listed inventory fell minimally by 1% versus the same time period a year ago. Price statistics diverged, with median price improving by double-digits versus a year ago but average price declining due to a drop in sales at the top of the market.

- Single-family home sales fell for the first time in five quarters, down 6% annually to 79 closings. Like condos, this was the lowest number of third guarter closings since 2013.
- Sales volume fell 10% annually due to the annual declines in sales and average price.
- Third Quarter 2024 single-family closings over $20M fell 40% annually, driving average price down to its lowest third quarter level since 2022.
- Average discounts reached their highest level since 2019 at approximately 11% off last ask.
- The highest-priced single-family sale was 2700 Sunset Drive, which closed for just over $34M and was the second highest third quarter sale in three years.

Miami Coastal Mainland

The Miami Coastal Mainland covers the following areas: Aventura, Miami Shores, Upper East Side, Edgewater, Downtown Miami, Brickell, Coral Gables, and Coconut Grove

Miami Coastal Mainland Sales activity moderated, inventory increased, and prices rose in Third Quarter 2024. However, the quarter's results varied by product type. Compared to a year ago, condo sales fell sharply, inventory spiked, and prices rose due to an influx of new development closings. In the market for single-family homes, annual shifts were mixed: closings ticked higher, supply nearly doubled, and prices saw significant gains amid robust demand for prime neighborhoods.

Miami Coastal Mainland

CONDO / CO-OP / TOWNHOUSE

Echoing recent quarters, The Miami Mainland condo market softened further in Third Quarter 2024. The number and volume of condo sales fell annually for the ninth consecutive quarter, the longest string of declines since 2017. Unsurprisingly, lower demand led to further gains in inventory and extended marketing times by nearly two weeks versus a year ago. Despite sliding sales and higher supply, median price and average price per square foot both experienced annual gains as buyers gravitated to newer condos in better locations.

- Closings fell 20% annually to 776 sales, the slowest third guarter total since 2017.
- However, median price, average price and average price per square figures all increased versus 2023 as the market share of sales over $2M rose to 25% this quarter from 19% a year ago.
- Third Quarter 2024 saw a significant number of new development closings, such as the Aston Martin Residences in Downtown Miami and the Mr. C Residences Bayshore in Coconut Grove, which were key contributors to the year-over-year increases in price statistics.
- This quarter's most expensive condo sale on an absolute price basis was a 10,065 square-foot penthouse at the Grove at Grand Bay, which closed for $19.5M ($1,937 per square foot).
- The highest condo sale of the quarter on a per square foot basis was unit 1501 at the Mr. C Residences, which sold for $7.290M ($2,578 per square foot).

SINGLE FAMILY

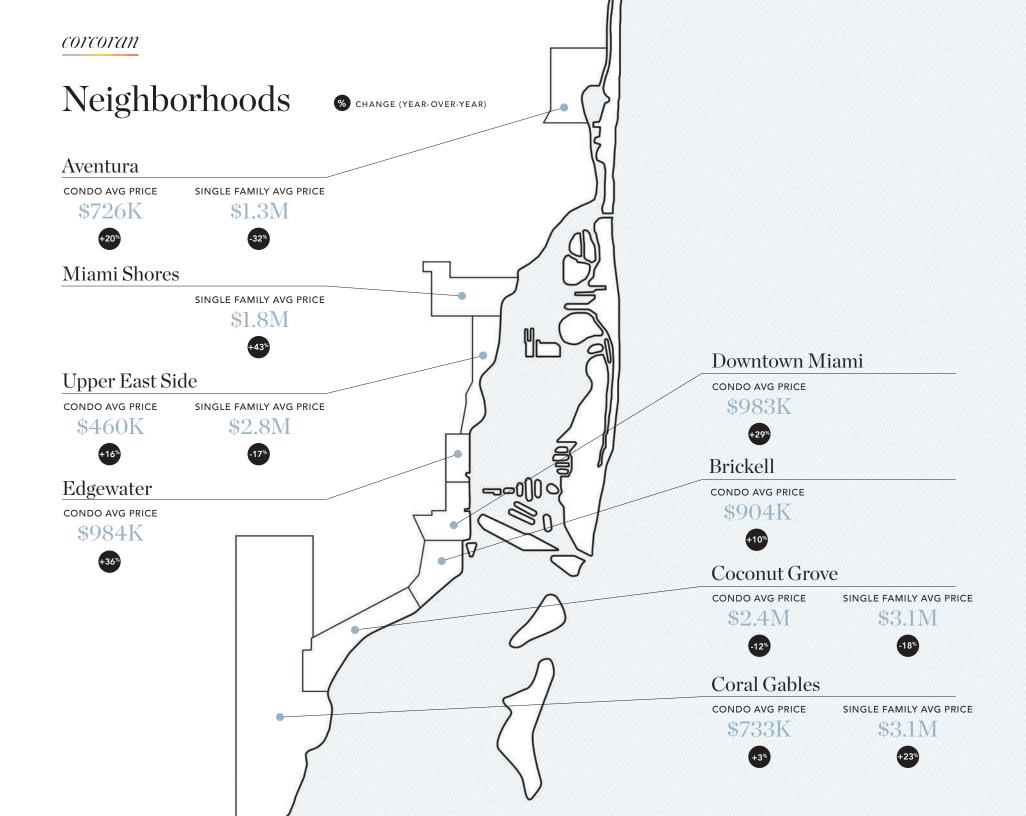

The Miami Mainland single-family market improved compared to a year ago in Third Quarter 2024. Versus 2023, single-family closings and sales volume both increased due to strong activity at the high-end of the market. Strong price gains and lower mortgage rates pushed sellers to test the market, causing inventory to increase year-over-year to its highest third quarter level in four years, which in turn also caused marketing timelines to lengthen as buyers took their time shopping through the additional supply.

- Single-family home sales increased 2% annually to almost 200 sales for the first time in 2024.
- Sales volume increased by 10% year-over-year as the market share of sales over $2M increased to 42% this guarter versus 31% a year ago.
- Inventory at nearly 500 single-family homes reached its highest Third Quarter level in four years.
- With the increase in inventory, days on market rose by about two weeks compared to a year ago.
- The highest-priced single-family sale of the quarter was at 9550 Journeys End Road in Coral Gables, which closed for $18.5M ($2,225 per square foot).

Methodology

METRICS

METRICS previous quarter statistics for sales and prices are revised in the subsequent report once data are available for the full quarter period.

CLOSED SALES figures for the current quarter are based on reported transactions at the time the report is prepared.

DAYS ON MARKET averages how long a unit takes to sell and is calculated from subtracting list date from contract date. Units on the market longer than three years and shorter than one day are considered outliers and removed from the data to prevent significant skewing. New developments are excluded because many available, unsold units are held off the market for long periods of time.

AVERAGE PRICE PER SQUARE FOOT is the average price divided by the average square footage. In prior Corcoran Reports this was calculated as an average of all prices per square foot, which gives a number less skewed by high price sales and more similar to a median price per square foot. The two metrics are now separated to give more insight to market dynamics.

LISTING DISCOUNT is the percentage difference between the average of the verified sale prices and last asking prices.

MEDIAN PRICE is the middle or midpoint price where half of sales fall below and half fall above this number.

INVENTORY is a count of all currently listed units and is measured at the end of the quarter. It does not include unsold yet unlisted units in new developments ("shadow" inventory).
